Please respond to the following:

1. Has there ever been a situation in your life when you were forbidden to do something but you had such a great desire to disobey and do that thing anyway? Please describe the situation.

1. a) If you responded yes, what were the reactions or consequences for your actions and/or disobedience? Did you succeed in your goals? If you did, were the reactions of your parents/guardians different?

2. If you have never done anything against your parents'/guardians' wishes and you could....what would you like to do?
